
Bars are normalized to their paired denominators; integers are group counts.
Bands are retrospective descriptions, not significance or policy thresholds.